Dear Dr. Smith:

The North Carolina Medical Board (“Board”) has concluded its investigation related to the action taken against your West Virginia medical license by the West Virginia Board of Medicine (“West Virginia Board”). It is the Board’s decision not to commence formal proceedings against your North Carolina medical license at this time. However, the Board voted to issue you this public letter of concern. The Board does not consider a public letter of concern to be a disciplinary action or a limitation or restriction on your North Carolina medical license.

The Board is concerned that your West Virginia medical license was revoked in December 2023, after the West Virginia Board found you obtained your West Virginia medical license by fraudulent misrepresentation. Specifically, the West Virginia Board found that you failed to disclose disciplinary action taken against your North Carolina medical license.

In March 2021, you began applying for a West Virginia medical license. On July 1, 2021, you fully completed the application. Following completion of the application process, you were granted an unrestricted license to practice medicine and surgery in West Virginia.

On July 19, 2021, you entered into a Consent Order with the Board, the details of which are contained therein.

In August 2021, the West Virginia Board was alerted by the Federation of State Medical Boards that disciplinary action had been taken against your North Carolina medical license pursuant to the aforementioned Consent Order. As the Board’s Consent Order was finalized approximately one week after you were issued a medical license in West Virginia, the West Virginia Board found you knew at the time you applied for your West Virginia medical license that you were under investigation by the Board and failed to disclose this information on your application.

The Board urges you to take steps to ensure the conduct giving rise to the Board’s concerns does not happen again. Otherwise, the Board may take additional action against your North Carolina license to practice medicine. If that happens, this letter may be reviewed in determining the appropriate action.

David Nathaniel Smith, M.D.

Sincerely,

Christine M. Khandelwal, D.O., MHPE
